

OneVision Software is a leading Software company for the global media and print industry. With a strong customer base, we strive to support our customers to automate their production processes.

For our regional office for Latin-America in São Paulo, Brazil we are currently seeking for dynamic and self-motivated

TECHNICAL CONSULTANT (M/F/X)

JOB SUMMARY

- Consultancy on the deployment of our innovative solutions to automate production workflows of large format, label, book, commercial and screen printing.
- Planning, implementing and completing the installation of our software on customer's site.
- Developing and implementing assembly lines together with our customers.
- Planning, implementating and completing customer projects to automate their production processes.
- Carrying out workflow audits / assessments at the customer's site.
- Consulting Customers on-site as well as remotely by e-mail and/or phone.
- Supporting our sales team.

JOB REQUIRMENTS

- Degree/Diploma in Print Media Technology/Design or other related disciplines from recognized institutions
- Deep knowledge of prepress and/or digital printing technology
- Experience in automating production processes coupled with a high willingness to learn and deploy new technologies
- Affinity for IT and software knowledge in the field of printing technology and workflow automation
- High degree of self-initiative and drive
- Willingness to travel on business to visit customers
- Fluent written and spoken language skills in English and Spanish

HOW TO APPLY?

Interested candidates are invited to send their application including salary exaptation by email to career.la@onevision.com